• Isagus Extroversions : French Artist, based in Geneva, Switzerland.

Originally a painter, and sculptor; in 2010 I decided to explore new supports to express ideas. Through trash clothes, performances and installations, I found an effective way to question, provoke, debate... The first Isagus Extroversions collection was only in paper. Later, I extended it to any kind of material I find possible to work with.

Isagus antifashion Shows are performances. I have been invited to several fashion weeks as a special guest, for the kick off receptions as an Eco Fashion designer, but more than a designer, I consider myself an artist expressing feelings and thoughts through unconventional dresses and installations.

Each dress presented has a name, a story to tell, a message to deliver : about the planet, the stolen childhood, human trafficking, ethnic diversities, ancestral traditions, as well as domestic abuse, wars, genders... The concept behind Isagus' fashion art pieces plays with the idea of restoring aesthetic value to objects that have been discarded.
