

ARTIST BIOGRAPHY

Amanda Lynn Veasey is a mother and caretaker to 6 children, 3 hounds and a Maine Coon Cat. She has been making art on and off for 22 years. 6 years ago, she started doing art more seriously because of Grave's disease and Lyme disease.

Art helped her physically and mentally heal. It gave her a purpose and something positive to focus on. She wants to use art and especially NFTs to save the world, kill greed and spread joy. She is a dreamer. She loves colour, detail and texture and Loves progression art and iteration art. It is not the end that matters to her, it is the journey. No art is ever truly done.